Citation (APA):

World Health Organization. (2020). Strengthening the health system response to COVID-19. WHO Press.

Annotation:

This report examines healthcare system preparedness and response strategies during the COVID-19 pandemic. It outlines resource allocation, workforce planning, and patient care management. The document is credible because it is published by a global health authority and based on international data. It is useful for healthcare policy research and system improvement analysis.
