

Opinion Essay: Why Reading Books Is Better Than Watching Movies

Introduction

Books and movies both tell interesting stories, but I believe reading books provides a richer and more rewarding experience.

Body

Books encourage readers to imagine characters, settings, and events in their own way. This imagination makes the reading experience more personal.

Reading also improves vocabulary, concentration, and critical thinking. Unlike movies, books require readers to actively engage with the text.

Although movies offer impressive visuals and entertainment, they often simplify stories by removing important details found in the original books.

Conclusion

While movies are enjoyable, books offer greater depth, stronger educational benefits, and a more immersive storytelling experience. For these reasons, I believe reading is the better choice.

College Essay